ETWA Concerns over Purchasing Electronic Equipment for (IEC)

The Election & Transparency Watch Organization of Afghanistan (ETWA) believes that every step toward improvement of election process must lead to public confidence in elections.

Recently, The National Procurement Authority (NPA) on behalf of the National Unity Government (NUG) has reached out to 13 companies for quotations on electronic equipment for the Independent Election Commission (IEC) without consulting the political parties, civil societies and Afghan elites, which raised concerns about the lack of transparency and inclusiveness in this process.

ETWA kindly urge (NUG) and (IEC) to win public trust and obey transparency & inclusiveness principles of elections through consulting with Afghan political elites, political parties and CSOs over providing the (IEC) with electronic equipment.
